Muslim Hatred Called Threat to Community

Fanatical Cult Said to Direct Venom at All Whites and Negroes Trying to Oppose It

BY CHARLES DAVIS

In a two-story stucco building at 5606 S. Broadway a group of militant Negroes meets regularly to share a common hatred.

This hatred, compounded by mysticism and religious fervor, is for any human being with a white skin — and for any other Negro who does not share this belief. They call themselves the Nation of Islam, but their members were born in the cluttered tenements of Chicago and not in Mecca. Their prophet is an ailing 45-year-old Negro named Elijah Poole, whose father was a slave in Georgia. Elijah Muhammad, as he is known to his followers, founded his movement in Chicago in the early 1940's and that city is still headquarters for the sect.

Only Small Fraction

The Black Muslims represent only a distant decimal point of the city's Negro community. The same is true nationally.

But do these anti-white, anti-Christian extremists represent a danger?

In the early morning hours of April 22, two police officers routinely stopped beside a parked car on S. Broadway. Clothing was piled high in the trunk of the car and two men were sitting there.

Several doors away was the Muslim Temple, Muhammad's Mosque No. 27.

A fight started between the officers and the members.

Muslims Fear Out

The door of the temple was open and angry Muslims poured forth. They seized a gun from one policeman and shot another officer with it. The gun was fired later, all six shots discharged. Two officers were knocked to the ground and killed in the head.

When police reinforcements restored order, one Muslim lay dead in the street. Seven others had been wounded. Now 16 men are by police to be Muslims and participants in the riot await prosecution.

At the urging of Police Chief Parker, the County Grand Jury will begin an investigation of the Muslims on 15.

Bound to Recur

"This is real dynamite," Parker said after testifying before the criminal complaints committee of the grand jury. "Their teachings (the Muslims) are of the nature that such clashes as occurred the other night are bound to recur and will become more frequent."

The police chief said the outbreak was "the most brutal conflict I've seen since I've been in Los Angeles."

There have been reports that the Muslims have threatened reprisals against the Negro police officers, and especially against a special officer, a Negro, who fired the first shot in the April 28 riot, when he sought to help the two white officers who had been attacked.

Editor Sympathetic

Mrs. Pat Alexander is editor of a Negro publication, the Herald-Dispatch, which is sympathetic to the Muslim movement. She said the riot was not to blame for the riot. She blames the Negro special officer who fired the first shot.

He should have been arrested and charged with murder.

Mrs. Alexander has great admiration for some of the Muslim leaders but it does not extend to the reputed leader.

cal leader, John H. Morris.

Morris was one of the Muslims arrested after the riot.

The Muslims in Southern California are believed by Chief Parker to number between 3,000 and 4,000. Nationally, the membership has been placed at about 60,000.

Knows Muslims

Inspector John Powers, assistant commander of the police patrol bureau, is an authority on the Muslim movement.

"Poole has stirred up these people," said Powers, "and he has a real good thing going for him."

The officer said that while the prophet of the Black Muslims has promised his followers they will "take over" by 1970, he does not really want open warfare with the whites as long as each member pays the customary one-third of his income into the movement.

Powers said Muslim publications have quoted Poole as saying his followers will "cut off the heads of the white devils" and of warning "we will defend ourselves, our women and our religion when we are attacked. We will go to any extremes to defend ourselves."

Has Elite Corps

The "Fruits of Muslim" make up the elite corps of the movement, Powers said.

These are young men who must keep in top physical condition. They are not permitted to drink alcohol, use narcotics, eat pork or speak profanely.

Women play a secondary role. They are forbidden to use makeup and must bathe at least once a day.

The "Fruits of Muslim" keep their hair clipped short. They wear black suits of conservative cut and black shoes.

Plenty of Money

There seems little doubt that Poole's treasury is in good condition, although he reportedly keeps no records of collections. When almost $100,000 was needed to post bail for freedom of nine Muslims arrested after the riot it was obtained almost immediately.

Powers said many of the Muslims have criminal records and that in some crimes they apparently have killed white men when it was not necessary to the success of the crime. They have provoked trouble in prisons, notably in Folsom Prison.

Although Poole founded his movement in the early 1930s in Chicago (where a $20 million Islamic center is projected), it gained little headway until the 1940s, when Negro nationalism began to emerge in Africa.

Poole's Black Muslims do not want integration; they want the Negro race to remain "unpolluted" by the white race.

Poole's right hand man is Malcolm X ("X" is the name given by the movement to qualified Muslims while they await their original "pre-slave" names to be assigned eventually by the grace of Allah).

Malcolm X, who presides at the movement's New York headquarters, speaks with disdain of such organizations as the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and such Negro dignitaries as Ralph Bunche and Thurgood Marshall. They are advocates of "Uncle Tomism," he claims.

What do the Muslims want? They believe several states should be given over to them where they can establish an all-Negro republic, according to Malcolm X.

Leader Denies Muslim Made Telephone Threat

Minister Malcolm X, one of the national leaders of the Black Muslim movement, denied Sunday that Muslims were responsible for the "cowardly and dishonorable" anonymous telephone threat to Mrs. Ethel Bryant, 44, a field deputy to Mayor Yorty. Police protection was ordered for Mrs. Bryant after she received a telephone call Friday at City Hall. The man who called told her: "I'm calling for the Muslims. We're going to get you over the weekend."

Malcolm X said in a telegram to The Times that Mrs. Bryant "is a Negro deeply respected by our entire community."

He stated further: "Our religious group is composed of clean-living, law-abiding Muslim brothers and sisters who would never stoop to the low depths of making threats to any other individual or group."

End Of A Muslim

FOR THE RECORD — The body of Muslim leader Ronald Stokes was photographed by the Muslims after it was turned over to them by police following an autopsy and investigation into his slaying by a policeman. Note head wound (inset). Stokes was slain in Muslim clash with police outside their Mosque in Los Angeles. Muslims charged he was shot down "in cold blood."

NEW YORK—Minister Malcolm X, spiritual leader of New York City's Black Muslim sect and the top East Coast representative of Elijah Muhammad, charged here Tuesday that Ronald Stokes, 28-year-old Muslim secretary of Mosque 27 in Los Angeles was "shot down in cold blood" by police in last week's outbreak.

One Muslim was killed and 15 wounded in a clash with police outside the Mosque.

Minister X who flew from New York to the coast to investigate the clash, told the Amsterdam News that Stokes died, and the other Muslims were seriously hurt, because "they didn't fight back."

He said the Muslims were trying to comply with police orders when they were shot down and beaten after they fell. Police however say the Muslims attacked them.

Minister X said Stokes, a college graduate and a native of Boston, is the father of a three-month old daughter and had been married about two years.

Delivering Clothes

According to Minister X, the trouble first began a block and a half away from the Mosque and on the other side of the street when police challenged two Muslims whom Malcolm said were delivering dry cleaning to some of their followers.

He said when the cops questioned the Muslims as to where the clothes came from they answered all questions but that the cops then told them to "stop talking with your hands" and grabbed one of the Muslims and started to twist his arm.

The other Muslim reportedly came to his aid and a fight developed in which it is said that the two Muslims took the cops' guns and flashlights away from them.

Negro Fires First

Malcolm said at this point a Negro dance hall policeman rushed to the scene and began wildly firing his pistol. A riot call then was sent out and police rushed to the Mosque instead of the scene where the fight had started, Malcolm said.

When police arrived at the Mosque "they came out shooting" according to Minister X, and in the ensuing melee Stokes and many others were shot down, Malcolm said. He denied press reports that some of the Muslims had been armed.

Malcolm further charged that some of the Muslims who were shot and seriously wounded by police were not hospitalized or given medical aid until 48 hours after being shot.

One medical doctor at the Avalon Hospital in Los Angeles has backed up Malcolm's statement on this point and the local NAACP has lodged a strong protest on the police department's handling of the incident.

The Muslims are being represented by Attorney Earl C. Broad with Dr. John L. Howard serving as their physician, Minister X said.

It is desired to bring the characterization box on individuals maintained in the library up to date with respect to Key Figures and Top Functionaries. There is set out below a list of the Key Figures and Top Functionaries..

The Agent to whom the Key Figure case is assigned should forthwith prepare a characterization according to the office rules. These rules provide that the Agent should prepare a memo setting forth the information desired to go on the characterization card. The memo should reference the previous memo setting out the characterization. The characterization should be as brief as possible and as current as possible. If informants are utilized, the numbers of the informants should be set out following the characterization.

This memo should be submitted to the Agent's Supervisor for approval. The supervisor will have the characterization card prepared. This card will reflect the date of the memo, the serial number of the memo, and the name of the Agent preparing the characterization. The Supervisor will date and initial the characterization card.

With respect to the Key Figures, the bottom of the card will reflect that the case is assigned to SA _____, Section _____. The Agent should note that with respect to any case that is pending or pending inactive, it is his responsibility to keep the characterization card current at all times. The old characterization card should be made an exhibit or serial in the file of the person characterized. An index card must be prepared reflecting the name of the person characterized, the serial number of the memo setting out the characterization, plus the word "Characterization". (Library clerk will handle old card.)

In the event an individual is deleted from the Key Figure list or the case is closed, the Agent may have the card marked to so indicate. This terminates his responsibility to keep the card up to date.

A review of the cards will be made by 6/15/62 in order to insure completion of this project.

The names of the Key Figures and Top Functionaries are listed in the legend.

Harlem AND Beyond

THE NEW NEGRO MIDDLE CLASS

By EDWARD KOSNER and ALFRED T. HENDRICKS

THE SAGA of the new Negro middle class is the latest chapter in what may turn out to be the great American success story. It is unfolding now in Harlem's new skyscraper apartments and in the tree-lined sanctuaries of suburbia.

To the sociologist it's a living laboratory: A chance to observe a group in the throes of changing its "conception of self" from ghetto-bred second-class citizenship to a new awareness of personal worth.

To the banker (Chase Manhattan is the latest example) it's a stimulus to open a Harlem branch—with a Negro assistant manager.

To the Negro marketing expert it's the stuff of glossy brochures, full of bar graphs and census data, starring a phenomenon called "The New Negro Consumer."

To the city planner it means a growing demand for middle-income housing and to the suburban educator it means a growing demand for integrated schools.

To Black Muslim Malcolm X it's just a new wrinkle in the white man's calculated chicanery. "The [Negro] middle class is thoroughly 'hooked' on the phony promises of the white man," says Malcolm X. "He thinks that if he waits long enough he's going to be accepted. But if he waits a thousand years, it's still not going to happen."

To the middle-class Negro himself, his new status may be so insecure that it's almost intangible. "You write about middle-class Negroes, they'll think you're talking about someone else," says Negro comedian Dick Gregory, who finds no humor in the strivings of the new middle class.

"They have so many problems that keep them from feeling 'middle class.' When you go into a place and a guy throws you out, you're Negro—period!"

"I don't think we Negroes can afford class distinctions," says sociologist Arthur D. Wright of Long Island University.

But Gregory's hypothesis is far from universally accepted. Rather, there is widespread concern that middle-class Negroes, having "made it" themselves, quickly lose interest in the problems of their less successful neighbors.

"My own view," says Trinidad-born novelist Frank Hercules, "is that the poverty-stricken Negro is invisible to the middle-class Negro. The masses of urban Negroes live in abysmal conditions of squalor cheek by jowl with middle-class Negroes. But the middle-class Negro does not differ from the white American insofar as the invisibility of the underprivileged is concerned. The Negroes take exactly the same attitude."

A city official (white) adds: "If anyone hates and fears the Negro lower class more than the white man, it's the middle-class Negro."

"We do have an awareness of these problems," retorts a Negro social worker. "I don't think it's fair to say we don't. But the thing is we don't know how to actively get out and work to correct them."

THE MIDDLE CLASS ALSO HAS ITS MORE ELOQUENT DEFENDERS. It is concerned, says Prof. Kenneth Clark of CCNY, with "buying access" to the proper neighborhood, dress, job, manner of speech and education and the proper company for its children.

"This," says Clark with a wry laugh, "is a famous and long-standing indoor and outdoor American sport. It's not something the Negro middle class invented. It's part of the continuous process of upward mobility and association that every immigrant group in America has been a part of."

"I for one am not going to argue against the Negro buying this. I want to join the same rat race. I want the same suicide rate and despair as the white middle class."

"After all, if I'm going to have despair because of race prejudice, what difference does it make if my despair comes out of the emptiness of middle class life?"

Boon or boomerang, there's no question that the Negro middle class is growing in New York and around the country. One Negro marketing expert estimates that today about 20 per cent of New York's 1,140,000 Negroes have achieved middle-class status. The Negro community is enjoying a share of the general prosperity and at least some of the dreams that money can buy. As Vernice McGriff, a marketing specialist at Ebony magazine—whose pages gleam with stories and ads depicting gracious living—puts it:

"People are actually doing these things. And those that aren't are trying."

Increased employment opportunity, of course, supplies much of the thrust for the Negro economic escalator. "During the last few years," reports Manhattan Borough President Dudley, "there has been a decided increase in employment in some areas—the Transit Authority, the Housing Authority, hospitals, the Welfare Dept.—and in education."

More than 35,000 Negroes and Puerto Ricans hold city posts and 150 of them earn salaries ranging from $10,000 to $34,000. But as Dudley points out:

"With the exception of hotels and restaurants, dock workers and some in the garment trades and department stores—clerical and sales—the general business community in New York City is still far too reluctant to open the doors to the people of this community."

Despite these and other all-too-real obstacles, the trend is up. The latest census figures for the city help tell the story:

A decade ago, the median family income for Manhattan was $3,073 a year and the Harlem family income figure ranged from $1,778 to $2,268. Today, with the median for all families in Manhattan at $5,338, that for "non-whites" (essentially Negroes) stands at $4,045 a year. The figure in Queens (a bulwark of the Negro middle class) is nearly $6,000 a year and a seventh of the non-white population there earns more than $10,000 a year.

Roughly 30 per cent of employed Negro men—and women—have white collar (and professional) jobs or are skilled workers.

More than half of the city's adult Negro population has had at least some high school training and about 10 per cent has had a year or more of college.

AUTHOR HERCULES, FOR ONE, IS HARDLY IMPRESSED by statistics describing new Negro affluence. "The figures are quite seductive," he insists. "Someone reading these statistics on the other side of the world might think we have abundant prosperity."

"But the reverse is the exact truth. Able-bodied Negro men are standing on street corners and are not able to find work."

Negro marketing experts claim to know exactly where the new money goes. But whether cash is the key to status in New York is open to question.

There's a large middle-class group in New York.

but the social patterns are not so clear cut as they are elsewhere in the country," says one Negro magazine executive. "In some places professional position and family background count: If you're a numbers banker or something like that, you don't rate even if you have the money."

"In New York, if you have money you step into the preferred group."

SOCIOLOGIST WRIGHT, NOT UNEXPECTEDLY, has a different perspective. He speaks of a "talented group" that sets the status pace—and the talents he's talking about have nothing to do with running bases or policy alips.

"I think we've moved now from the entertainer as the status symbol to the figure who is the real architect—in politics, government or those frontiers which affect the largest number of persons," says Wright.

"I mean the Negro who has removed himself from being an observer and has become a decision maker, responsible for all persons—not just Negroes. Men like Ralph Bunche at the UN and Welfare Commissioner Dumpson."

And the "talented group," adds Wright, rejects the flight to suburbia and makes its stand in the city.

b7C Minister MALCOLM told [REDACTED] that he had been at a meeting the previous night where he took the middle of the road because both sides were both right and wrong. He said "that is a dangerous thing there and it must be rooted out without fail". He said that there was a lot of dirt being thrown around and there is some on both sides. [REDACTED] inquired as to whether it involved an ex-minister, whereupon MALCOLM replied in the affirmative. MALCOLM stated that things had been set up for [REDACTED] to go out there on Thursday but that he thought it would be good if he would take some help along. He said that there have been a great number of variations coming out since Saviour's Day. He said that he did not want to interfere and he had told the women that they should consult with [REDACTED] before they go any further.

b7C ELIJAH MUHAMMAD told Minister MALCOLM that [REDACTED] has been quite sick with heart trouble and a cold but is a little better. MALCOLM stated that he did not take up the illness in Philadelphia the previous day but that he will be there on Thursday when [REDACTED] will be there. MALCOLM stated he thought it would be good if [REDACTED] could be there also as he is aware of the situation and can help pour oil on the illness.

Malcolm X Speaks At Abyssinian

Muslim Minister Malcolm X will address an audience at Congressman Adam Clayton Powell's Abyssinian Baptist Church Sunday, April 15 at 7.

For several weeks Congressman Powell has been conducting a series of Sunday night lectures, titled "Which Way The Negro," with different guests speakers each week. The list included A. Philip Randolph, Carlos Cooks, Percy Sutton, James Lawson, Dr. Anna Hodgema, Judge Sam Pierce, James Farmer and many others.

Postponed

Malcolm X's appearance has been postponed several times. Rumors accused the heads of the church of trying to block the outspoken Muslim leader's appearance.

Malcolm X admitted to reporters that he had been informed only last Thursday by the Reverend David Liorish that his lecture had been "postponed again" by the "church board."

After pointing out that we were no longer interested in participating in the program, because of these continuous postponements, intercession from Washington, D.C. by Congressman Powell himself assured us that the program will proceed as planned this Sunday night," explained Mr. X.

b7c A brother minister believed to be MALCOLM X LITTLE of New York City told the Holy Apostle that the Apostle's tape the previous night was very good and that the only bad part about it was that there was no announcement that he would be back next week. MALCOLM stated that the Convention speech on the national hookup will run 3 or 4 weeks as "they" only have a half hour. MALCOLM told the Apostle that the book by [REDACTED] is being printed. MALCOLM stated he has a copy and finds there are several serious mistakes in it, and that he had been trying to get in touch with the brother so he can check it. MALCOLM asked the Apostle if he had received his letter about the radio station, to which the Apostle replied yes, and that MALCOLM should go ahead with it.

b7c A [REDACTED] was contacted by ELIJAH MUHAMMAD and in that regard MUHAMMAD stated that he was contacting the doctor about his case as he could not be taken care of here in town. The doctor told MUHAMMAD that they were mainly leaving the decision to MUHAMMAD, but he thinks himself that they could do most of the things here, and that anything they did not understand they could get consultation on from good available men. [REDACTED] stated that he does not see anything that they (Mayo Clinic) could do that would not be available here in the city. He said the first thing they would do is determine why he is having the weight loss and what the chest condition is due to. MUHAMMAD inquired as to whether they had detected cancer and the doctor replied no, nothing that they could put their finger on. MUHAMMAD stated that he would feel much more at ease here with his kinfolk, as "up there" there is too much of a "solid white plate". The doctor stated that he understood and that under the circumstances, MUHAMMAD would not be relaxed at all.

b7C [redacted] later told MUHAMMAD that he would like to have him enter Provident Hospital in Chicago for observation and treatment and then, after a time, if they could not help him, they would call in a specialist. He stated that they desired MUHAMMAD's approval before doing anything. MUHAMMAD stated that he was willing to go along with anything that they decided upon and [redacted] thereupon stated he would make a reservation for MUHAMMAD at the hospital.

b7C [redacted] advised an unknown woman at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minnesota, that ELIJAH MUHAMMAD would not be able to keep an appointment at that clinic on Thursday, the fifteenth, and that the appointment should therefore be cancelled.

b7C [redacted] of Miami, requested to speak with the Messenger, however, he was told by CLARA MUHAMMAD that she would take any message for the Messenger. [redacted] stated he would like to know if the Messenger got a letter from an undisclosed brother regarding MUHAMMAD appearing on a television program in Miami. [redacted] was advised that CLARA knew nothing about it. [redacted] told [redacted] that the Messenger could appear at any time that he chose on the station which is a 5000 watt station and reaches all over the Miami area. [redacted] stated that he would tell the Messenger and that he would hear from him later.

3/17/62

MALCOLM (X LITTLE of New York City) told ELIJAH MUHAMMAD that he had just returned from Philadelphia and that Philadelphia needs a leader who understands and will act. MALCOLM stated that he thought a new minister in Philadelphia would solve the problem but that the minister would have to be good.

CG 100-35635

b7c [REDACTED] reported to ELIJAH MUHAMMAD concerning the progress of his trip to No. 15. [REDACTED] stated that he believed that the store and restaurant will now make a profit and show good progress. He stated that he had things fixed up and a good supply of groceries in stock and that he was confident that [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] would do a good job.
